

A reading with children of

“One Seed”

A story and song by Rosemary Phillips

Script for Five readers:

Reader 1: Seed #1 (reads the red words)

Reader 2: Seed #2 (reads the purple words)

Reader 3: Seed #3 (reads the brown words)

Reader 4: Seed #4 (reads the blue words)

Reader 5: Seed #5 (reads the green words)

The rest of the students are involved with the story as the Sound Effects Department (like in cartoons) and make the sounds of the: wind, sand, roots sucking up water, bubbling water, weary travellers, birds, insects.

Seed #1 (read the red words)

All the other seeds shouted as they went spinning by:

“It can’t be done!”

“No, you can’t do that!”

“Yes I can,” said the Seed.

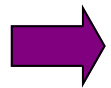

“Just watch me!”
